---FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE---

(Omaha, NE, February 3, 2010) - February 1st 2010, marks 19 years since Ned Kirklin had the pleasure of founding Kirklin & Co. which today is the Omaha office of Willis North America. Since its founding, the Omaha office has remained focused upon the fraternal marketplace. Success has come due to a commitment to complement the efforts of our clients while also remaining focused upon anticipating their future needs.

Very talented people have joined the organization over the years who are committed to providing a customer first service effort. Rich Jungman, Rohnda Roehrs and Michael "Mick" McGill are three individuals, along with many others, who exemplify the focus on providing a value added service.

In an effort to reward and challenge these key office leaders a plan was put in place two years ago to promote Rich Jungman to Managing Partner and hire Mick McGill with the intent of promoting Mick to Rich's current position of VP – Client Advocacy as of January 2010. These plans have come to fruition and Rich and Mick were both promoted January 1st. Please join us in congratulating both Rich and Mick for these well deserved promotions.

Rohnda Roehrs will continue in her very demanding and appreciated role as VP – Client Management. With this change Ned Kirklin will assume a title of Executive Vice President – Client Advocate. In this new role, he will focus on client service and production of new business.

We look forward to 2010 and the opportunities it will bring. This change will allow Ned to focus much of his attention upon the General Administrator for FRMT, Ltd. role he recently assumed with the retirement of Durward Owen. While Rich and Mick will be adding office leadership and additional administrative duties to their responsibilities they will continue in the Client Advocacy role they have played for clients in recent years. In addition, Rohnda Roehrs and the Client Management team stand ready to be of assistance to all clients. Ned will remain engaged in the daily business of our firm and will be available to assist in a Client Advocacy role whenever necessary for any client.

We truly appreciate the opportunity to be of service to the fraternal community. If you have any questions or concerns please never hesitate to contact Ned Kirklin at Extension 200 or nkirklin@willis.com or Rich Jungman at Extension 215 or rjungman@willis.com.
